you obviously have never run a business; you're right, i am approaching age 70, and only run 3 businesses right now if not, using deet or other approved tick repellants and wearing protective clothing can help, as do thorough body checks of children once they return indoors

if not, using deet or other approved tick repellants and wearing protective clothing can help, as do thorough body checks of children once they return indoors